Back in the day, Alcone Catalogues featured an intensive section dedicated to information on the safe use of makeup and special effects materials. But now you can get so much from the internet such as You Tube, how-to videos and all kinds of information, that we have shortened this section tremendously.

Bald Cap! The DVD

-The ultimate demonstration of state-of-the-art baldcap application. You will learn how the professionals custom design "prosthetic quality" rubber caps used in motion pictures and TV. Thrill to the secrets of blending edges that are virtually invisible. See a makeup master paint with PA-X and rubber mask greasepaint for a photo realistic makeup that doesn't look like makeup.

-Many of the techniques and tools for the baldcap are the same for realistic prosthetic character application, making this video a must for the serious student or professional makeup artist wishing to expand their knowledge of realistic, 3 dimensional makeup techniques.

-Not only is this video informative, but it is entertaining. It was written and performed by Ed French, a makeup artist who got his start as an actor. His wonderful stage presence makes this video easy to watch.

Transformations

by Christopher Agostino

-Written by a dear friend of Alcone Co., we have watched Christopher develop in to a world renowned face painter. At his face painting events, every face is different, every face is a piece of art. The faces are painted quickly which makes it a true piece of performance art. In the book are the tools for designing new faces, for developing a personal style and for painting creatively each time you pick up a brush. It's more than a how-to manual, this book is the distilled vision of an artist exploring all that is possible in painting a face.
